CASE NO.:

Plaintiff,

SWIRE PROPERTIES, INC. d/b/a
EAST HOTEL, a Florida corporation,

Defendant.

COMPLAINT

Plaintiff, NATALIA JUSCINSKA (hereinafter “Plaintiff”), sues Defendant, SWIRE PROPERTIES, INC. d/b/a EAST HOTEL, a Florida corporation (hereinafter “Defendant”) for injunctive relief, attorneys’ fees, and litigation costs, including but not limited to disbursements, court expenses, and other fees, pursuant to the Americans with Disabilities Act, 42 U.S.C. § 12181 et seq. (“ADA”) and the ADA Accessibility Guidelines, 28 C.F.R. Part 36 (hereinafter “ADAAG”), and for injunctive relief and damages, pursuant to the New York State Human Rights Law, and the New York City Human Rights Law, and alleges:

INTRODUCTION

1. Defendant owns and/or operates that certain hotel known as EAST HOTEL, located in Miami, Florida (the “Hotel”). The Hotel takes reservation through a website located at www.easthotels.com/en/miami (the “Website”). In addition to taking reservations through the Website, the Hotel also provides information to the public through the Website, including available guestrooms and amenities.

2. Defendant is required by federal law to ensure that all of its reservation systems, including its online reservation systems (a) identify and describe disabled accessible features of the Hotel in detail; (b) identify and describe disabled accessible features of ADA compliant guest rooms in detail; (c) permit disabled individuals to independently assess whether the Hotel and its available guestrooms meet their individual accessibility needs (by describing accessible and inaccessible features); and (d) allow reservations to be taken for accessible guestrooms in the same manner as for non-accessible guestrooms.<sup>1</sup> Defendant has not complied. This lawsuit follows.

COUNT I VIOLATION OF THE AMERICANS WITH DISABILITIES ACT

<sup>1</sup> This is a non-exclusive list of requirements imposed by 28 C.F.R. §36.302(e)(l). These requirements apply not only to the Website, but also to every online reservation system on which reservations can be made to stay at the Hotel, including orbitz.com, travelocity.com, hotels.com, and others.

8. On July 26, 1990, Congress enacted the ADA, explaining that its purpose was to provide a clear and comprehensive national mandate for the elimination of discrimination against individuals with disabilities and to provide clear, strong, consistent, enforceable standards addressing such discrimination, invoking the sweep of congressional authority to address major areas of discrimination faced by people with disabilities to ensure the Federal government plays a central role in enforcing the standards set by the ADA. 42 U.S.C. § 12101(b)(1) - (4).

9. Pursuant to the mandates of 42 U.S.C. §12134(a), on September 15, 2010, the Department of Justice, Office of the Attorney General (“DOJ”), published revised regulations for Title III of the Americans With Disabilities Act of 1990. Public accommodations, including places of lodging were required to conform to these revised regulations on or before March 15, 2012.

10. On March 15, 2012, the revised regulations implementing Title III of the ADA took effect, imposing significant new obligations on inns, motels, hotels and other “places of lodging.” 28 C.F.R. §36.302(e)(1) provides that:

Reservations made by places of lodging. A public accommodation that owns, leases (or leases to), or operates a place of lodging shall, with respect to reservations made by any means, including by telephone, in-person, or through a third party –

(i) Modify its policies, practices, or procedures to ensure that individuals with disabilities can make reservations for accessible guest rooms during the same hours and in the same manner as individuals who do not need accessible rooms;

(ii) Identify and describe accessible features in the hotels and guest rooms offered through its reservations service in enough detail to reasonably permit individuals with disabilities to assess independently whether a given hotel or guest room meets his or her accessibility needs;

(iii) Ensure that accessible guest rooms are held for use by individuals with disabilities until all other guest rooms of that type have been rented and the accessible room requested is the only remaining room of that type;

(iv) Reserve, upon request, accessible guest rooms or specific types of guest rooms and ensure that the guest rooms requested are blocked and removed from all reservations systems; and

(v) Guarantee that the specific accessible guest room reserved through its reservations service is held for the reserving customer, regardless of whether a specific room is held in response to reservations made by others.

11. In promulgating the new requirements, the Department of Justice made clear that individuals with disabilities should be able to reserve hotel rooms with the same efficiency, immediacy, and convenience as those who do not need accessible guestrooms. 28 C.F.R. Part 36, Appx. A.

12. Hotels (and motels) are required to identify and describe all accessible features in the hotel and guestrooms; “[t]his requirement is essential to ensure individuals with disabilities receive information they need to benefit from the services offered by the place of lodging.” 28 C.F.R. Part 36, Appx. A. Moreover, “a public accommodation’s designation of a guestroom as “accessible” does not ensure necessarily that the room complies with all of the 1991 Standards.” 28 C.F.R. Part 36, Appx. A. Labeling a guestroom as “accessible” or “ADA” is not sufficient.

13. In addition, hotel rooms that are in full compliance with current standards may differ, and individuals with disabilities must be able to ascertain which features – in new and existing facilities – are included in the hotel’s accessible guest rooms. For example, under certain circumstances, an accessible hotel bathroom may meet accessibility requirements with either a bathtub or a roll in shower. The presence or absence of particular accessible features such as these may mean the difference between a room that is usable by a particular person with a disability and one that is not.

28 C.F.R. Part 36, Appx. A. Accordingly, Defendant is required to set forth specific accessible features and not merely recite that a guestroom is “accessible” or “ADA” or list accessibility features that may (or may not) be offered within a particular room.

14. For hotels in buildings constructed after the effective date of the 1991 Standards, it is sufficient to advise that the hotel itself is fully ADA compliant, and for each accessible guestroom, to specify the room type, the type of accessible bathing facility in the room, and the communications features in the room. 28 C.F.R. Part 36, Appx. A.

15. However, for hotels in buildings constructed prior to the 1991 Standards, information about the hotel should include, at a minimum information about accessible entrances to the hotel, the path of travel to guest check-in and other essential services, and the accessible route to the accessible room or rooms. In addition to the room information described above, these hotels should provide information about important features that do not comply with the 1991 Standards. For example, if the door to the “accessible” room or bathroom is narrower than required, this information should be included (e.g., door to guest room measures 30 inches clear). [emphasis added].

28 C.F.R. Part 36, Appx. A.

16. The Hotel is a place of public accommodation that owns and/or leases and operates a place of lodging pursuant to the ADA.

17. The Website (and all other online reservation platforms used by the Hotel) allow reservations for the Hotel to be taken online. The Defendant has control over information provided to the public about the Hotel through the Website and/or other online platforms.

18. Prior to filing this lawsuit, Plaintiff visited the Website (with her significant other) to review available accessible rooms and accessible features, to identify the accessible room that works for her, and to then reserve that room through an agent. However, she was unable to assess whether the Hotel is accessible to her or whether any accessible rooms were available to her. Upon her visit to the Website, Plaintiff discovered that the Website does not provide the accessibility information that she requires. In short, the Website does not comply with the ADA and ADAAG. As such, Plaintiff was unlawfully forced to select and reserve a room through her agent without any information regarding whether it is accessible or whether the Hotel is accessible, and to simply “hope” that the Hotel would have a room that meets her accessibility needs, and that such a room would be vacant upon her arrival, and would be provided to her.

19. With regard to specifics, the Website’s homepage contains no information whatsoever about the Hotel’s ADA compliance or the Hotel’s common areas or rooms. Additionally, an accessibility menu is displayed on the bottom right corner, but this is only to assist guests with visual impairments, not for booking purposes. The ‘Stay’ section – despite offering details of all available guest room types – does not include any information regarding accessibility. While descriptions are available for the Rooms: Urban King, Urban Plus King, Urban Double, Urban Plus Double, Corner King, Corner Plus King, Bay King, Bay Plus King, One-Bedroom Suite East Suite, and for the Residences: Junior Residence Suite, 1-Bedroom Residence Suite, 2-Bedroom Residence Suite, 2-Bedroom Corner Residence Suite, 3-Bedroom Residence Suite and the Workshop Residence Suite, none mention ADA compliance or accessibility, and thus there was no way for Plaintiff to determine whether any of these rooms met her disability needs.

20. The Website also has no accessibility information concerning common areas or amenities. The Website does not indicate whether the Hotel common areas and amenities are in full compliance with all 1991 Standards, or, in the alternative (as may be applicable):

a. Whether the public entrance to the Hotel complies with the 1991 Standards, and if not, the ways in which it does not comply, so that Plaintiff and other similarly situated can evaluate whether it is accessible to them;

b. Whether the registration desk at the Hotel complies with the 1991 Standards, and if not, the ways in which it does not comply, so that Plaintiff and other similarly situated can evaluate whether it is accessible to them;

c. Whether any restaurant or other food service areas at the Hotel comply with the 1991 Standards, and if not, the ways in which they do not comply, so that Plaintiff and other similarly situated can evaluate whether it is accessible to them;

d. Whether any parking facilities, lots, or other parking accommodations at the Hotel comply with the 1991 Standards, and if not, the ways in which they do not comply, so that Plaintiff and other similarly situated can evaluate whether it is accessible to them;

e. Whether the swimming pool (if any) complies with the 1991 Standards, and if not, the ways in which it does not comply, so that Plaintiff and other similarly situated can evaluate whether it is accessible to them;

f. Whether the business center (if any) complies with the 1991 Standards, and if not, the ways in which it does not comply, so that Plaintiff and other similarly situated can evaluate whether it is accessible to them;

g. Whether the meeting/ballroom areas (if any) comply with the 1991 Standards, and if not, the ways in which they do not comply, so that Plaintiff and other similarly situated can evaluate whether it is accessible to them;

h. Whether the route from the public entrance to the registration desk is accessible in compliance with the 1991 Standards, and if not, the ways in which it does not comply, so that Plaintiff and other similarly situated can evaluate whether it is accessible to them;

i. Whether the route from the registration desk to the accessible rooms is accessible in compliance with the 1991 Standards, and if not, the ways in which it does not comply, so that Plaintiff and other similarly situated can evaluate whether it is accessible to them;

j. Whether the route from the public entrance to the business center is accessible in compliance with the 1991 Standards, and if not, the ways in which it does not comply, so that Plaintiff and other similarly situated can evaluate whether it is accessible to them;

k. Whether the route from the accessible guestrooms to the business center is accessible in compliance with the 1991 Standards, and if not, the ways in which it does not comply, so that Plaintiff and other similarly situated can evaluate whether it is accessible to them;

l. Whether the route from the public entrance to the pool (if any) is accessible in compliance with the 1991 Standards, and if not, the ways in which it does not comply, so that Plaintiff and other similarly situated can evaluate whether it is accessible to them;

m. Whether the route from the accessible guestrooms to the pool (if any) is accessible in compliance with the 1991 Standards, and if not, the ways in which it does not comply, so that Plaintiff and other similarly situated can evaluate whether it is accessible to them;

n. Whether the route from the public entrance to the fitness center is accessible in compliance with the 1991 Standards, and if not, the ways in which it does not comply, so that Plaintiff and other similarly situated can evaluate whether it is accessible to them;

o. Whether the route from the accessible guestrooms to the fitness center is accessible in compliance with the 1991 Standards, and if not, the ways in which it does not comply, so that Plaintiff and other similarly situated can evaluate whether it is accessible to them;

p. Whether the route from the public entrance to the restaurant or food service areas is accessible in compliance with the 1991 Standards, and if not, the ways in which it does not comply, so that Plaintiff and other similarly situated can evaluate whether it is accessible to them;

q. Whether the route from the accessible guestrooms to the restaurant or food service areas is accessible in compliance with the 1991 Standards, and if not, the ways in which it does not comply, so that Plaintiff and other similarly situated can evaluate whether it is accessible to them;

r. Whether the route from the public entrance to the conference/ballroom space is accessible in compliance with the 1991 Standards, and if not, the ways in which it does not comply, so that Plaintiff and other similarly situated can evaluate whether it is accessible to them;

s. Whether the route from the accessible guestrooms to the meeting/ballroom space is accessible in compliance with the 1991 Standards, and if not, the ways in which it does not comply, so that Plaintiff and other similarly situated can evaluate whether it is accessible to them;

21. This is not intended to be an exclusive list, and Plaintiff also brings this action to remediate all violations of the ADAAG found to exist upon the Website, and upon all online reservation platforms used by the Hotel.

22. Defendant's failure in this regard is compounded by a detailed web accessibility statement on their Policies page, assuring the visually impaired that the Website is ADA compliant. Defendant is therefore aware that the ADA exists, aware that its Website is obligated to comply with the ADA, but has apparently elected to ignore ADA obligations that specifically apply to a website through which a hotel take reservations.

23. In addition to the list above, upon information and belief, Defendant may not effectively (i) ensure that accessible guest rooms are held for use by individuals with disabilities until all other guest rooms of that type have been rented and the accessible room requested is the only remaining room of that type; (ii) reserve, upon request, accessible guest rooms or specific types of guest rooms and ensure that the guest rooms requested are blocked and removed from all reservations systems; or (iii) guarantee that the specific accessible guest room reserved through its reservations service is held for the reserving customer, regardless of whether a specific room is held in response to reservations made by others. Discovery is required on these issues.

24. Plaintiff will visit the Website again, upon the Defendant's compliance with the laws and regulations specified herein, in order learn about the accessible (and inaccessible) features, learn about the accessible (and inaccessible) features of guestrooms, assess the extent to which the hotels meet each of her specific accessibility needs, and determine whether she can reserve an accessible guestroom.

25. Defendant has discriminated against Plaintiff and all other mobility-impaired individuals by denying full and equal access to and enjoyment of the goods, services, facilities, privileges, advantages and accommodations offered on the Websites, due to the continuing ADA and ADAAG violations as set forth above. Defendant has had eight (8) years to bring the Website (and other online reservation platforms, as applicable) into compliance with the ADAAG revisions, but has failed or refused to do so.

26. Modifying the Website (and other online reservation platforms, as applicable) to comply with the ADA and ADAAG is accomplishable without undue burden or expense and is readily achievable. But in any event, upon information and belief, the Website has been altered, updated, and edited, after 2010, but not in a manner compliant with 2010 ADAAG standards.

27. Defendant will continue to discriminate against Plaintiff and all other disabled individuals who access the Website (and other online reservation platforms, as applicable) unless and until Defendant modifies the Website (and other online reservation platforms, as applicable) to set forth all required information, as set forth above.

28. Plaintiff is without an adequate remedy at law and is suffering irreparable harm, and Plaintiff reasonably anticipates that she will continue to suffer this harm unless and until Defendant is required to correct the ADA violations found upon the Websites (and other online reservation platforms, as applicable), and to maintain the Websites (and other online reservation platforms, as applicable), inclusive of the online reservation system, and accompanying policies and procedures, in a manner that is consistent with and compliant with ADA and ADAAG requirements.

29. Pursuant to 42 U.S.C. §12188(a) this Court has authority to grant injunctive relief to Plaintiff including an Order that compels Defendant to enact policies that are consistent with the ADA and its remedial purposes, and to alter and maintain its Website (and other online reservation platforms, as applicable), and all online reservation systems, in accordance with the requirements set forth within the 2010 Standards, 28 C.F.R. §36.302(e)(1).
